On motion by Councillor Robinson,

60,000 New Road Maps From A.M.A.

Containing the last available official information on the highways of the province, 60,000 strip or sectional maps have just been issued by the Alberta Motor Association.

These dependable and accurate guides always are welcomed by the motoring public. They are obtainable at garages, service stations, hotels, auto camps, and other official appointments of the A.M.A. Stocks also are available at branches of the A.M.A. in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge.

Sponsored by the Edmonton branch a new and separate map of the Peace River road system, including the new highway from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks, Alaska, also is being issued to motorists. This is probably one of the best northern and sectional maps ever issued to cover the road system. It provides a great deal of valuable information concerning a highway that holds the centre of interest on this continent.

With more motorists than ever planning to make only short trips this summer, in view of the appeals for conservation of fuel and tires, these sectional maps will probably be in greater demand than ever before.

The sectional maps not only show the road system and mileages but also contain a lot of other general information required by motorists.

Housewives Become Production Workers

Fifty housewives in a small Ontario community have united in a unique voluntary war effort that has boosted the cotton production of a war plant in their town by 400,000 yards a month and is raising more than $300 a month for war charities or town projects.

The town is Woodbridge, Ontario, and the "Woodbridge Plan", introduced in April, is working out so well that its adoption by other Canadian communities where the scheme is applicable is now being considered.

Four hours spare time a week for war production is the essence of the practical two-way war effort plan. Each volunteer donates her time for one four-hour morning or afternoon period a week. They have been assigned to simple but necessary tasks such as ticket-writing, wrapping, taping, and cloth-loading, thus releasing regular plant employees for heavier work.

Regular basic wage rates are paid by the company and the money earned by this volunteer effort is turned in to a common community fund administered by the organization, for distribution among war charities or community projects. Working hours are from 8 to 12 in the morning, from 1 to 5 in the afternoon. It is now planned to organize night shifts, when the ladies hope to draft their husbands into the organization.

Just as women in towns and cities all over Canada are giving mornings or afternoons every week to other voluntary phases of war work, the Woodbridge plan is based on the spare time principle, with the difference that the effort goes to a war plant urgently in need of help. Variations of the scheme have been effective in England for some time but Woodbridge is the first Canadian community to adopt it.

An offer to purchase Lots 16 and 17 in Block 38, Plan 945Z for the sum of $45.00 was received from Mr. Cyrus J. Abernethy and, on motion by Councillor Liasmore, this offer was received pending the final passing of the necessary by-law.

On motion by Councillor Stafford, the Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to cancel the balance of arrears of School Taxes standing against the SR 1-15-7-W4th after crediting the payment of $35.88 less commission, $1.79, the payment being the 1942 taxes under the Tax Consolidation Act as set forth in the statement attached to the cheque for $34.09, dated April 8th, 1943, from the reporting authority, the Municipal District of Wainwright.

On motion by Councillor Robinson, it was resolved that the action of the Secretary of the Wainwright Municipal District in deducting commission from remittances made on January 14, 1943 and February 11, 1943 which should have been deducted from a remittance of $138.66 School Taxes made in January of 1942 be ratified and that the Secretary-Treasurer of the Town of Wainwright be authorized to allow the above deduction in the amount of $6.93 as set forth in the statement from the Municipal District.

On motion by Councillor Liasmore it was resolved that the upset price for property being offered for sale at the 1943 Tax Arrears Sale of the Town of Wainwright be as follows: For Improved Property—The assessed value; For Unimproved Property—The amount of arrears of taxes standing on the roll against the property.

On motion by Councillor Liasmore

During the 46 days ended May 8th, Allied front-line troops and Air Forces in North Africa used up 38,000,000 rounds of ammunition of all calibres. In the last great battle 100,000 tons of ammunition were made available every day.

Hope Valley Resident Passes to Reward

There passed away suddenly on Thursday morning last, Mr. Wasyl Treflak, an old-time resident of the Hope Valley district. He was 72 years of age, and until his sudden demise from heart trouble had always enjoyed good health.

The deceased came, with his family, direct from Austria and settled on his farm 32 years ago.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, as well as a son at Elk Island, Alta., and a son and daughter both at Sudbury, Ont.

The funeral, which was in charge of McLeod's parlors, was conducted by Rev. L. Wilson on Sunday afternoon at St. Andrew's (Pres.) church. Interment was made at Wainwright cemetery.

Messrs. F. Shaban, K. Shaban, H. Taylor, H. Pugh, and W. Pugh acted as pall-bearers.

Education Arranged To Aid Rehabilitation

The Canadian Legion educational services, established at the start of the present war, is certain to play an important part in reconstruction and rehabilitation, Donald Cameron, head of the department of extension at the University of Alberta, and director of the legion educational services in Alberta, stated Tuesday.

Mr. Cameron was addressing delegates to the annual convention of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., in session at the Memorial Hall, Edmonton, last week.

Legionaires could really be proud of the educational service, which, he stated, is now recognized by the highest military authorities.

Languages, shorthand and typing are some of the subjects taught under the Legion educational scheme, and these courses are sure to prove valuable in the reconstruction period and be of great assistance in rehabilitation, Mr. Cameron said.

LET'S BUY AN ASH CAN

The Dominion government, recognizing the seriousness of the fight against the U-boats, are promoting a campaign to combat the menace.

Starting July 1st, a War Savings Stamp campaign is opening for the purchase of depth charges for all naval units. Every bit of money taken in this campaign will be earmarked for the building up of a vast reserve of depth charges for use in the immediate future.

Here's your chance to drop an ash can, all your own, right on one of Hitler's sea monsters.

Between date of landing in North Africa and the middle of May, British troops smoked 450,000,000 cigarettes and ate 9,000,000 bars of chocolate. Since April 1st, 2,500,000 British airmen were dealt with, 25,000 bags of mail were received from Britain.

Mrs. E. Turner and Mrs. W. Prosser spent a few days in Edmonton last week end.

Local Red Cross Open Coffee Bar

On Saturday evening last, the new coffee bar which the ladies of the local Red Cross have inaugurated for the accommodation of the large number of soldier boys in our midst, was opened in the Bolduc Garage building.

LT.-COL. E. BROWN, M.M., E.D. who officiated at the opening of the new Red Cross Coffee Bar on Saturday last.

At the opening, Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., the commandant of the new camp at this point was present with a number of his staff and other officers, and it was not long before the ladies were besieged with orders for "coffee sinkers," "hot-dogs" and other light refreshment dear to the hearts of the boys in uniform.

The effort is truly a worthy one, and judging by business on Saturday night, it is going to prove a profitable one, too.

We are informed that it is the intention to have the premises open each evening except Sunday, and all are welcome.

Price Subsidies Are $120,000,000

OTTAWA—Consumers' subsidies to be paid by the prices board during the fiscal year ending next March 31 to keep down the cost of living are estimated at $120,000,000, the senate finance committee was told yesterday by D. C. Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Daley.

The total is an increase of $40,000,000 over subsidies paid last year, of which the major item was for more than $26,000,000—a transportation subsidy on petroleum products, chiefly for the armed forces.

The senate committee is studying Canada's $3,890,000,000 war appropriation bill.

Farmers Should Order Repair Parts Now

Farmers may run into new difficulties in harvesting this year's crops unless they order repair parts for their farm machinery without delay, the Dominion Department of Agriculture states. Reiterating the warning of last December, the Department explained that farmers who wait until haying time before ordering repair parts for mower, rake and loader can not expect prompt deliveries from farm implement manufacturers. Ordering machinery repair parts may mean the difference between a lost crop and a good harvest.

Air Force Show Can Use More Talent

The 'Air Force Show' recently seen in Edmonton has proved so popular that the Royal Canadian Air Force plans to operate a number of similar units throughout Canada. Talented amateurs and young professional entertainers are now being enlisted by the R.C.A.F. to serve with entertainment units in different training Commands throughout the Dominion.

Squadron Leader W. Paul Graham, Officer Commanding No. 3 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., announced today that there is at present a demand for good female singers. It is essential that applicants have a good soprano voice, with or without a microphone; they should be willing to learn dance routines and be capable of speaking lines. It was also pointed out that Air Force is looking for young versatile artists as comedians. Those who saw the recent Air Force show will remember the high standard established by Sergeant Dowie with that entertainment unit.

Special dancing acts, single, two men, or boy and girl, are required as well as script writers. These latter should be accomplished in writing scripts for theatre productions. Present plans do not call for radio script writers but it is anticipated there will be a call for such on a later date.

No entertainment unit can operate successfully without stage managers. Persons with professional experience with lighting, stage-setting and other stage duties are eligible.

All enquiries should be made to No. 3 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., Provincial Building, Edmonton. Applicants will be given audition by a qualified officer assigned to this duty by Air Force Headquarters.

House Applauds Vessel For Rubber Cargo

OTTAWA—Munitions Minister Howe drew a round of applause from the House of Commons yesterday as he told the story of a determined Canadian crew that brought a cargo of rubber safely to Canada from the war-torn Pacific.

Canada had 21,000 tons of natural rubber at or near Singapore when it fell, and it was felt this supply was lost.

But practically all of it had arrived in Canada later, the ship carrying it being holed with Japanese shells.

The vessel had made away as the Japanese advanced and slugged toward home without communicating with anyone. It finally brought the rubber safely to Halifax.

Mr. Howe said he understood the ship was owned by Canadian National Railways.

"Happy" Swanson in Ranks of Benedicts

The wedding is announced of Miss Adle Gilford, of Rumsay, Alta., to Mr. Albert ("Happy") Swanson, of Wainwright, which event took place at the home of Sgt. and Mrs. K. Durk, in Edmonton, on May 26th last.

The bride, attired in a two-piece blue crepe dress with matching hat and black accessories, was attended by Mrs. Durk and wore a corsage bouquet of tea roses and lilies of the valley.

Sgt. Durk, R.C.A.F., a cousin of the groom, acted as best man.

A reception to a small number of friends and relatives followed the ceremony. The happy couple will take up residence in the city for a short while.

New York Mayor Greets Victoria Head

"New York salutes the city of Victoria," said Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, writing to the Mayor of the British Columbia capital, when T.C.A. service was extended to Victoria, "and I send greetings on the occasion of your city being added to this important air route. Our two countries are bound even more closely with the firm bonds of friendship."

Mrs. Traynor Dies At Ripe Old Age

Following a residence in the Gilt Edge district for the past 31 years, Mrs. Catherine Traynor, one of the pioneers of the district, passed away on Friday morning last at her home there, at the age of 83 years. Her husband pre-deceased her some years ago.

Left to mourn her passing are three sons and four daughters, all of whom are residents here. These are Mrs. Joe Denoncourt, Mrs. F. Adams, Mrs. E. Monahan and Miss Catherine, and Messrs. Frank, George and Peter.

The funeral took place on Monday morning at Blessed Sacrament (R.C.) church, Rev. Father Elmann conducting the requiem mass.

The arrangements were in the hands of McLeod's parlors, and the pall-bearers were Messrs. A. Dickout, J. Allison, H. Olson, W. O'Connor, C. Davis and E. Goddard.

Interment was at Wainwright cemetery.

An important link in Canada's war transport is the Canadian National car ferry service across the Strait of Canso. Across this mile of water go hundreds of thousands of tons of steel and coal from Cape Breton Island.

FORGOTTEN, THIS PRICELESS CANADIAN ASSET

In this war-weary world, the relations of Canadians and Americans stand out as a hope for the future.

Closer, better friends and neighbours than any other peoples on earth, we needed no Atlantic charters, no peace conferences, or diplomatic red-tape to keep us together.
All we ever needed was a free and open border to shuttle back and forth across.

This shuttling across the border, as Brooke Claxton, M.P., says, in a recent Canada-West Indies magazine, "has woven ties of friendship which make our two peoples the best of good neighbours on this shrinking globe."

Two years ago nearly 14 million Americans entered Canada, bringing us more U.S. funds than almost any one of our industries. As Mr. Claxton says, "even at that we still fell far short of our share of the total North American tourist business," which estimates fix at about $6 billion dollars.

Profit and money is not the measure of value of the U.S. tourist trade.
The good relations between Canada and the United States as nations are based on the good relations between Canadians and Americans as people.

At present the tourist trade is a casualty of war. Travel is necessarily restricted.

Yet there is one thing nearly every Canadian can do, and that is to keep in touch with relatives, friends and business acquaintances in the States.

As Mr. Claxton very rightly says, —five factors draw American tourists to Canada: "country, people, facilities, special interests, and publicity." Publicity is nobody's monopoly, (having been press agent for years, we can speak with some authority on this subject.) A letter, a greeting card, a message of good wishes from you to some friend in the States on appropriate occasions is the finest type of Canadian publicity that any advertising genius could create. Nothing is better. But you've got to send it yourself.

You can't go to see your American friends—they cannot easily come to see you. Keep in touch with them by mail. It's no weakness to admit we value a good neighbour. We value them, not for their money, which is of less consequence these days, and which never did mean as much to us as their company—we value them for themselves, because they are, we know, the best neighbours and the best friends that any country has ever had in the history of this world.

Keep in touch with your Friends South of the Border with Mail.

vation Army National Advisory Board to succeed the late Sir Edward Beatty, serves once more to show how the work of this great organiza-unmistakably of his time to assist the worthy cause. Air Marshal Bishop years, and it is fitting that a distin-

gushed soldier become national chair- man.

In its early days The Salvation Army met violent opposition from both the ignorant and the intolerant, but today it stands not only as a monument to the sincerity and energy of its leaders, but as evidence of the newer spirit of human brotherhood.
It was launched primarily to lend a helping hand to the humble folk who were treated so generally with disdain by the more fortunate. It took to them the text and spirit of the Gospel, and offered them the hospitality and companionship they could not find in the churches. Today the Salvation Army, still working on the fringe, and beyond, of church society in a very large field, has won the admiration of all classes of people. It has carried on well a greatly needed crusade, and it is gratifying that the interest of able business men is readily enlisted in behalf of the cause so ardently pursued for humanity's sake.

LETTERS ARE LINKS WITH PRISONERS-OF-WAR

The human animal is, above all things else, gregarious. He likes to move about, meet people and make friends. Such contacts with others of his kind provide the spice of existence, and cannot very well be done without. And when he is separated from his companions his pleasure consists in receiving letters from them, in hearing of their daily joys and sorrows, and all else concerning their lives. This rule applies the more so when through some ill-chance or accident of fate he is removed for a long period of time from his own country.

Our soldiers, sailors, and airmen who are at present in enemy prison camps live but to hear from their families and friends at home. The letters and packages which they receive are, for the time being, the only link which binds them to their happier past. It is up to the people of Canada to see that this link is never broken.

When we consider that our mail must safely traverse the submarine infested Atlantic Ocean, and then make its way by devious routes through Switzerland before it can be delivered to the camps, we realize the magnitude of the job performed by the post-office authorities and the Red Cross.

Occasionally mail for some prisoner goes astray and never reaches its destination, but this is usually the fault of the sender in not properly addressing his letter or parcel.

The post office department publishes a little booklet, the purpose of which is to explain to the public the correct way of sending mail and packages to their kin at present in the hands of the enemy. It is a very instructive pamphlet, and deals with every aspect of the matter, including a list of the articles which are taboo and may not be sent.

It is obtainable at any post office.

EXAMINATION TIME IS HERE

"All over Canada, and perhaps in many other places, young heads are bent over textbooks, day and night, trying to refresh young memories, and bring back details of a year's work at desks, so that these will be available when the dreaded examination papers will expose mystifying and unexpected questions. So says the editorial writer of the Chauvin Chronicle.

If our young people have not already discovered that there is no such thing as justice and equality, they will realize it at this time. Some will pass, some will not. In general, their passage will be predicated upon the faithfulness with which they have pursued their studies during the year—but only in general. Some who have found school work easy will sail along serenely, with answers at finger tips; they have perhaps not found it necessary to make school work an unrelenting grind. Homework has been hurried through, and perhaps at times neglected, yet their receptive and agile minds easily measure up to the required standards. Then there are the less fortunate individuals, to whom geometry and algebra are nightmares, something to be memorized in detail, but never understood; or to whom dates and historical chronology are just a sticky mass that cannot be manipulated into tangible form. To these, though their brains be fatigued with concentration examinations are a dreaded spectacle.

Then of course there are the careless ones, who, thoughtless of the valuable time they are frittering away, and unappreciative of the cost to parents, feel that schooling is just some thing that interferes with an otherwise pleasant and enjoyable life; who have made no efforts during the year, and are now faced with an obstacle which may well prove unsurmountable.

The aim of examinations is, of course, to decide whether a student has progressed sufficiently to fit him for further advancement. To do this fairly in the small scope of time available for examinations is a difficult matter. Here again the unfairness of life crop up—for questions, no matter how carefully devised, sometimes draw blanks from otherwise progressive students. The writer well recalls a leading question in one of his departmental examinations. Not a single student in the whole school had ever received any instructions regarding the matter dealt with in the question. It simply had to go unanswered. Then too, there is the mental "freezing" which, on occasions, attends great nervous tension. Minds that otherwise skip lightly along, and could command memories at will may suddenly become semi-petrified.

And here is where we would like to put in a word in the defence of the much maligned departmental examination paper readers. How many times have we heard it said that their great aim in life is to mark papers so low that students will be "eliminated." This is not the case—at least not by any means the general case.
We have been informed directly, by one who has for many years marked papers in Edmonton, and one, by the way, who is not noted for laxity, that examiners do everything in their power to pass every paper that comes before them, and that has any chance of getting a passing mark. Papers which just fall short of the required standards are read and re-read in an effort to find just excuse to mark them high enough for a pass.

These examiners know the heartbreak that attends a failure, they know, too, the value of a year of time to the students; and they bend every effort to get the student "by." Proper examination questions, written in a conscientious manner are by no means designed to "catch" students.
Any examiner who uses this method is missing the point and committing an injustice, unless that "catch" is not really a catch at all but an effort to find out those students who have neglected that which they were required to do.

In order to make marking of papers more fair in comparison to average student ability, actual marks received by candidates on each paper are now used as the standard in giving students their standing. Thus if no student taking the examination receives a mark of over 75%, 75% is considered the top mark for that particular paper, and grading of students is made accordingly.

Supplies for French civilians in French army there have totalled 250, 000 tons.

New Game Rules Drawn For Alberta

New big game regulations for the forthcoming hunting season are now being considered by government officials, and they will probably be announced in July, it was learned Thursday.

Inquiries are already being received from hunters in the United States regarding prospects of the coming season, officials of the provincial government game branch announced in Edmonton.

Food rationing regulations that affect hunting parties have been the subject of queries reaching the provincial department. Special provisions are made under the ration law which allows parties going into isolated sections of the country, more than the stipulated amount of rationed commodities.

The Alberta game branch pointed out today that the bag limit for ducks in the province was already 12 per day, the maximum allowed under international agreement.

PROVIDE PROTECTION AGAINST MOSQUITOES

With Black flies on the loose and mosquitoes stinging, the Wartime tired after 42 years' service. Mr. Hea-man is also well known in the west.

More than 1,500 pounds of tin have been recovered from toothpaste and shaving cream tubes collected on Can-turned in for war salvage. Melted down, the tubes yield about a third of their gross weight in tin.

Workers are Needed Even By Compulsion

TORONTO—The government is moving rapidly into the use of compulsion in battling the manpower shortage in Canada, said Arthur J.
MacNamara, deputy labor minister and director of national selective service, in an address to the 72nd annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here.

Admitting the manpower shortage existed, Mr. MacNamara said it would reflect no credit on Canada if it were otherwise.

Mr. MacNamara spoke at the manpower conference.

"We are requiring men to go into the army although we are reluctant to do so," he said. "Likewise we will have to compel a man to work at a job even at a lower rate of remuneration than his present occupation. We must use compulsion on the civil side as well as on the military side."

TWO-THIRDS of the total number of loans outstanding in Canada's Chartered Banks average less than $500 per loan.

Through bank loans, Canada's Chartered Banks help Canadians to benefit themselves, their fellows and their country. Many of these loans are small—but all contribute their share to the day-by-day activities of Canadian enterprise.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

Chartered Banks' loans related to agriculture as shown on the last official return to Parliament, totalled $340,118,473. This sum included loans to farmers, ranchers, fruit raisers and to grain dealers and grain exporters.

Every general manager today heading a Chartered Bank entered the bank as a junior in some small branch.

Up to and including February, 1943, no fewer than 6803 men and 154 women bank employees had enlisted in the armed forces.

Canadians in every walk of life and in every part of Canada are served by more than three thousand branches and sub-agencies maintained by the Chartered Banks to facilitate the nation's business.

FARM NOTES

FEEDING AND MANAGEMENT OF LAYING HENS

When the first eggs are dropped on range it is time to prepare for the housing of pullets, states E. F. Cheney, Head Poultryman, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. The birds should come into clean houses and should be kept free of lice by treating the roosts with nicotine sulphate. Shifting over to the laying mash that is to be used during the fall and winter months should be gradual. A supply of grit, limestone or oyster shell along with plenty of fresh water should be kept before the birds at all times.

During the fall and early winter it does not require much of a change in feeding or management to upset the birds, often resulting in a partial moult with its consequent loss of production. All stimulating feeding practices such as the use of lights, feeding wet mashes, and giving extra milk to drink should be withheld until November when the birds are most apt to have a slump in production. During the fall the birds are building up their bodies as well as producing eggs, so that extra scratch feeding is indicated. In the feeding of the flock of Leghorns a Kentville good results have been obtained when feeding five pounds of oats in the morning to ten pounds of mixed feed at night to each 100 birds. When the warmer weather arrives this grain feeding is reduced one pound each month until the birds are receiving twelve pounds per 100 birds, at which rate grain is fed during the summer. In order to get maximum results the flock should be gone over each month and undesirable birds removed. The remaining birds may be fed all the mash and grain they will consume. Birds that have been bred for production will turn the extra feed into profit.

The value of extra milk for a flock of hens should be more generally appreciated. Milk helps to balance the ration so that the farmer with milk available may secure a satisfactory laying mash with a mixture of home-grown grains by adding 5 percent fish meal, 5 percent beef scrap, one percent fine salt and 2 percent cod liver oil or by adding concentrates as prepared by the feed companies. This mash should be supplemented by feeding clover or alfalfa leaves or finely cut second growth clover or alfalfa hay.

WORM MAY TURN WHEN ATTACKED

The Victory gardener is likely to improve his knowledge of entomology before the season is far advanced and learn that warfare must be waged against insects that attack plants if the fruits of his toil are to be realized and the food crops saved for human consumption.

As in land, sea and aerial conflict, the method of attack on insect pests varies according to the defenses of the enemy and his vulnerable points. The life history of insects generally is divided into four stages, namely: egg, larva, pupa and adult.

Biting and chewing insects, such as certain beetles, caterpillars, grass hoppers and slugs, can be controlled by stomach poisons, which include arsenates of lead and lime, cryolite, Paris Green and nicotine, whereas sucking insects have to be attacked by contact poisons such as nicotine sulphate, derris, pyrethrum, oil sprays, lime sulphur and thioncyanates. These act on the respiratory system or by their caustic effect.

One of the most troublesome and elusive pests in the garden is the cutworm, a caterpillar that buries itself during the day and "cuts up" at night during warm weather. Given freedom of action, these insects may mow down cabbage, corn, tomatoes, and other young plants as fast as they come up or are set out, severance being usually at ground level.

Cutworms are plump, smooth-bodied, grey to brownish caterpillars, fully one and a half inches in length when fully grown. They usually hide in the soil by day and do their dirty work by night. When disturbed, they coil up into semi-circular attitude, feigning innocence and demonstrating that even a worm may turn.

Cutworms can be destroyed most effectively by means of a poison bait prepared by mixing thoroughly one quart of bran with a teaspoonful of Paris Green or sodium fluosilicate and then adding about a pint of water sweetened with two tablespoonsful of syrup or molasses to make a moist but not sticky mixture. This should be scattered lightly around or near the plants shortly before the worms emerge to feed. Since these baits are poisonous, they should be used with due caution and stored beyond the reach of children, poultry (even your neighbor's) and domestic animals.

WORLD LACKS FOOD

The United States Conference of 43 nations has just concluded its investigations at Hot Springs, Virginia. They find:

1. That there is and will be for a long time to come, a scarcity of food in the world.
2. That while it is desirable to improve the nutrition of the people of the world a much more important goal for future years is to bring about freedom from sheer hunger from which millions of people have always suffered.

3. That there is no real surplus of foodstuffs in the world.

4. That production of food must be greatly increased in the future.

5. That surplus foodstuffs available in any country must quickly be made available to the hungry people of other countries.

6. That to bring about a better distribution of foodstuffs, the Conference went in record as opposing tariffs and other artificial barriers to international trade.

This is all splendid news for prairie farmers, for it indicates a return to sound economic and humanitarian thinking which the governments of the world, and most of the people, abandoned during the past 20 years. There will undoubtedly be much opposition to these recommendations. Certain interests will still desire to have many kinds of goods made uneconomically in the United States and Canada behind high tariff walls. Farmers and all of us, therefore, will have to press our Canadian Government to lower tariffs so as to permit the free flow of foodstuffs, goods and commodities throughout the world.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Since war started, British farmers have increased oats and barley crops by more than 50% and have raised vegetable production from 2,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons. Crop conditions in Europe point to a harvest greater than in any previous war year. Ecuadorian rice exports in 1942 reached an all-time record of 99 million pounds as compared with the previous record of 50 million pounds.

Australia's 1942-43 wheat crop is placed at 156,820,000 in the final official estimate as compared with last year's harvest of 164,080,000 bushels. The French wheat crop was about 236,000,000 bushels last year as compared with 335,000,000 bushels harvested the year before the war began.

VITAMIN C
Vitamin C is known scientifically as ascorbic acid and it is for it in particular that our food rules include a citrus fruit, tomatoes and other fruits and vegetables. Unfortunately, many of our foods do not contain much vitamin C, but oranges and grapefruit and their juices, and tomatoes, raw or canned, and tomato juice, have a relatively large amount. It is important to know, however, that you need twice as much tomato as citrus fruit; so every day you should have an orange or half grapefruit (they will give you your daily requirement), or a large glass of tomato juice.

Among less common foods rich in Vitamin C are strawberries, black currants and watercress; nearly all raw, green vegetables, like cabbage, have vitamin C. Another important food for vitamin C is potatoes, because they have a dependable amount of it and are eaten more or less regularly in fairly large quantities.

MAGIC TEA BISCUITS
2 cups flour 1 tsp. butter
4 tsp. Magic 1 tsp. lard Baking Powder 1/2 cup cold milk 1/2 tsp. salt or half milk and half water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the chilled shortening. Now add the chilled liquid to make soft dough. Toss dough on to a floured board and do not handle more than is necessary. Pat out with the hand or roll out lightly. Cut out with a floured biscuit cutter. Bake on a greased sheet in a hot oven, 450° F., 12 to 15 minutes.

HELPS CUT FOOD COSTS

They are better cooked in their skins; some vitamin C is lost when they are mashed. Cooking readily destroys vitamin C. For this reason fruits and vegetables should be eaten raw whenever possible.

We need vitamin C for good health. A complete lack of it causes scurvy, which is practically unknown here, but which used to be very common on long sea voyages. An insufficient amount of Vitamin C in the diet will cause poor formation of teeth, a weakening of the walls of small blood vessels and sometimes a swelling and redness of the gums (gingivitis). All these symptoms disappear quickly when a diet including citrus fruits, tomatoes and raw green vegetables is taken.

THE VIRTUES OF SIMPLICITY

In these days when everyone's time is so much occupied, and when minutes are precious, the housewife can reflect with pleasure that the simpler meals she serves, the better they are for her family's health. The fact is that elaborate preparation of foods, especially of vegetables, causes the loss of much of their vitamin and mineral content.

Some of the menus used in the famous Boy's K Club experiment with noon meals, conducted in Toronto from February to March, 1942, offer suggestions to mothers of school children.

Here are three typical ones: Baked Potatoes - Cheese, Wedges of Raw Cabbage, Tomato Juice, Buttered Whole Wheat Bread, Cocoa, Cod Liver Oil.

Baked Lima Beans, dried, with tomato Sauce, Buttered Whole Wheat Bread, Orange, Milk, Cod Liver Oil. Toasted Cheese sandwiches, Whole Wheat Bread, Raw Turnip Sticks, Milk, Orange, Cod Liver Oil.

Simple are they? Yet each of these meals gave every boy all or nearly all of his day's requirements in the protective food elements, the vitamins and minerals, and more than 1/3 of his calorie needs for the day. All this at an average cost of less than 16 cents per meal! And before you say, "But they won't eat brown bread or raw vegetables", please remember that the 30 K club boys, who were just ordinary boys like any others, did eat them without protest and enjoyed them. You may have to do a sales job but it can be done because it has been done. And it's well worth doing.

Beauty for YOU
The Secrets of Good Looks by Barbara Lynn.

HAVE YOU RADIANT HAIR?
Lovely shimmering hair is a sign post of youthfulness, yet so many are content with dull and faded hair, often speckled with dandruff. With very little trouble, hair can be made most attractive.

Brushing is the first step. Use a brush with really strong bristles, and get at the roots and scalp. Dull faded hair needs toning up with a good hair tonic now and then. Sprinkle some tonic over scalp and hair, loosen hair from scalp, then, placing your fingers firmly on the scalp, rotate the scalp itself, without rubbing. Finally, brush vigorously.

If you're very greasy hair, don't forget that a permanent wave tends to dry up surplus oil.

Dry hair needs occasional massage with warm olive oil. For very brittle hair, try an egg shampoo occasionally. Take two eggs, beat whites and yolks separately, then fold together. Wet hair and scalp with lukewarm water (not hot water, as it coagulates the eggs). Cover head with sufficient mixture to work into hair and scalp, then rinse thoroughly with clear tepid water. Repeat process several times.

Of course, whatever the condition of your hair, you need a shampoo at least once a week. Halo shampoo is just the thing, because it suits any type or colour of hair, is simple to use and makes the hair refreshingly clean and glossy. Halo shampoo will make a halo of your head!

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

With the approach of warmer weather, that bane of many women, superfluous hair, will become an increasing problem, for warm weather increases its growth, even with some women not normally subject to it.

Readers ask: "Can this blemish be permanently removed?" The best method is, it is generally recognized, electrolysis treatments, which must, however, be carried out by competent and expert operators to be really effective and harmless. And even electrolysis does not ensure non-recurrence of the trouble on other parts.

There is, too, a special wax which is simple to use and which helps to retard the growth. It is a slower process but has the merit of privacy as it can be used in the home.

Many correspondents ask if peroxide curtails growth. It does not. It is simply a bleaching agent. If you have merely a slight growth on the face, a bleach is probably all you require, so try this one: Mix three table spoons of peroxide with six drops of ammonia. If your skin is very tender, add another tablespoon of peroxide. Apply with a clean piece of absorbent cotton and allow to dry on the face.

Many women believe that soaps and creams cause superfluous hair. Really good creams and soaps will never cause hair to grow, but you can be quite free from worry on this score by always washing with gentle palmolive soap, and by using delightful Three-Purpose cream.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Important Notice TO CERTAIN EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES

TO MAKE available for essential employment the services of men in classes already designated as callable for Military Training under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, two Orders were issued during May.

It is now illegal for any employer to continue to employ or to engage any man affected by these Orders, except under special permit from National Selective Service. Employees affected must report to the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office, and be available for transfer to more important work.

If you as an employer or as an employee, have not complied with these Orders, do so immediately. Get in touch with the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office either personally or by writing. Further delay will involve penalties. Compliance with the law in wartime is the minimum duty of every citizen.

The age and marital classes of men covered by these Orders are as follows:

(a) Every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 (inclusive) who has reached age 19.

(b) Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, at July 15th, 1940, was: (i) unmarried; or (ii) divorced or judicially separated; or (iii) a widower without child or children.

(c) Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who has, since July 15, 1940, become a widower without child or children now living.

(d) Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, since July 15, 1940, has been divorced or judicially separated.

Men as described above are covered if in any of these employments:

(1) Any occupation in or associated with retail stores;

(2) Taverns or other establishments selling liquor, wine or beer;

TRAVEL IN WARTIME BRITAIN

Travel at any time in another country is exceedingly interesting, but the privilege of travelling as we did in Britain in wartime is an experience enjoyed by few.

One item on the list of instructions given us before we started, read as follows: "It must always be remembered that the British Isles are very definitely in the war zone, and that a party such as this moves in accordance with the instructions of the War Office".

On every hand there is evidence that you are in the war zone. There are plenty of signs of preparation to repel an invader at a moment's notice. Obstructions have been placed in fields, or other places that might be used as a landing spot for enemy planes, and material has been prepared and placed in readiness to make barricades or obstructions at strategic points on the roads and highways.

Everything is different from peace time travel, in fact travel is discouraged now as much as possible. There are signs at every station reading "Is your journey really necessary?"

All trains are overcrowded, no meals are now served on them, and reservations of space are very difficult. Their system of reserving a compartment is to paste on the door a sticker reading "Reserved". If there are several of these on the train it is difficult to find out which reserved compartment is yours.

Travellers must now look after their own baggage. The English railways have never adopted the Canadian system of checking baggage. Before the war there were many porters to look after the baggage. John L. Stoddard, famous world traveller and lecturer, was so impressed with these English porters that he wrote, "the host of uniformed porters who spring forth to assist on the arrival of the train, relieving us of bags and parcels, bringing our baggage from the van, calling a cab, assisting us into it with our satchels, and telling the driver our destination; all of which is so quietly and quickly done that we I asked to name a specimen of almost perfect service, 'I should say that of an English railroad porter'".

Today there are no porters, and the traveller rushes, desperately along the side of the train, peering into the compartments, looking for a vacant seat, and finally piling in anywhere, standing up for the journey and blocking the corridor, if there is one, with the baggage.

It is taken as a matter of course that most of the trains are late, probably due to delays caused by overcrowding. A ticket must be shown before anyone can get on to a station platform. This ticket is taken up when leaving the platform at the destination. However, platform tickets may be purchased which entitle the holder to go on to the platform to meet or say goodbye to a visitor.

The usual place names have disappeared from the stations. In their places are very small printed signs, which are very hard to see or read. The traveller must therefore listen carefully to the name called out at the stops, and take care that he is not taken past his or her destination.

War-time restrictions have made a big change in the travellers themselves, who now are very friendly and will frequently even share their lunch with other travellers who are complete strangers.

We saw very few signs of damage to the railways, but were told, when we expressed our surprise, that when such damage had been quickly repaired.

At blackout time, guards make sure that all windows are covered, although in most compartments there is very little light, only about enough to enable one to get in or out without walking on other people's feet. Usually there is only one dim light in a compartment, and that is almost concealed with a metal reflector.

Hotels carry on under difficulties, due to shortage of help and food restrictions. Guests are expected to walk upstairs if they are not above the third storey, and to walk down no matter how many stories. It takes almost a week to get any laundry done.

Few of the hotels provide keys to the rooms, yet nobody seems to lose anything. It was difficult to find accommodation for a party the size of ours, as hotels with room accommodation probably would not be able to feed us, or if they could furnish meals, did not have the rooms.

The London Underground system seems to have been affected by the war the least of any mode of travel. The trains run through tubes which are very deep in the ground and are reached by large numbers of escalators or moving staircases. One much appreciated advantage of underground travel is that it is brilliantly lighted at all times.

Bus travel, although greatly restricted, due to the need of so many buses for transporting munition workers, is still carrying on.

During the first few weeks we were there, we travelled 1930 miles in our own private bus. We found it most difficult to know where we were as all place signs have disappeared. We frequently went through large places without the least idea of their names. It gives one a feeling of bafflement when it seems impossible to find out the names of the places.

One day we stopped in a small settlement. Seeing a young boy at the side of the road, we asked him the name of the place. He was evidently well trained, because he answered that he did not know. Some of our bus travel was done at night and it always was amazing to us how the bus driver could find his way so well in the dark.

While most of the surface transport in London is by omnibus, there are several street car lines, such as the one on the Old Kent Road. These look very strange to Canadian eyes, as they are double deck street cars, and are operated with hand brakes. The street cars in Blackpool, however, are very smart and modern.

In most cities taxis are not running, or are very hard to get. In London, however, they are fairly plentiful. They look very old fashioned to us, but are efficient and can "turn on a dime".

Bicycles are still popular in England. One Sunday afternoon we were taken through Runnymede, (where the Magna Charta was signed), and we never saw so many people on bicycles before in our lives. Some of them were equipped with sidecars and could take out the whole family, including the baby.

Altogether, travel in Britain today is difficult, but not impossible. Our experience gave us an insight into the way Britain's transportation problems are being handled.

Household Hints

COOL MEALS WITH LOTS OF APPEAL ARE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE AGAINST HEAT

Our kitchens form the first line of defense in our fight against the heat. Badly balanced, heavy menus lead to defeat, but we're sure to win if we serve nourishing but appetizingly cool-looking meals on warm days. Plenty of quickly cooked vegetables, salads, fruit desserts and iced coffee are real evidence of good generalship, because they keep the house cool and tempt dog day appetites. It's good tactics to serve decaffeinated coffee for your iced beverage, so that everybody can relax taut nerves on hot summer nights and forget sleeping worries. For a creamy iced brew made without cream, just pour hot milk on frozen decaffeinated coffee cubes. Don't forget that decaffeinated coffee needs slightly longer "perking" to bring out its full coffee flavor, and don't forget that fruit in the ice box is a thrifty answer to midnight snack seekers.

Creamy Iced Brew

Use 1 rounded tablespoon all-purpose grind decaffeinated coffee to every cup (1/2 pint) water. Make by boiled or percolated method. (If percolated, "perk" 15 to 20 minutes slowly and gently, or longer than ordinary coffee.) Freeze decaffeinated coffee in the ice cube tray. At serving time, heat milk but don't let it boil. Fill glasses with frozen decaffeinated coffee cubes and pour on hot milk. The result will be a smooth, creamy iced brew.

Fruit Cocktail

Fruit cocktail may be made of plain or mixed fruits, tart combinations of fruits and fruit juices, a single tart fruit such as grapefruit, served alone, or a mixture of tart and sweet fruit.

To prepare fruit, remove all skin and membrane, cut in pieces of serving size, and chill thoroughly. Serve ice cold in cocktail or sherbet glasses carefully arranged and garnished with mint, a colored cherry, preserved ginger, bright jelly, or whole berries.

Raw Potato Pancake

3 medium sized raw potatoes
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoons flour

1/2 teaspoon baking powder
Grate the potatoes and add the beaten egg yolks. Stir in the flour, baking powder and salt and mix well. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Cook by spoonfuls in heavy skillet in hot fat. Serve with apple sauce.

THIS MONTH'S STAR RECIPE

The star recipe for this month is a pudding recipe—one that may be made even by the cook whose ration coupons are practically all used. And this pudding made almost entirely from unrationed foods will please both the adults and the children. It is economical; it is healthful and it is easy to prepare. That brings it pretty close to one hundred per cent perfect.

Cereal Pudding

3 tablespoons flour

1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1/4 cup honey
2 eggs, beaten till thick and fluffy
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup Grape-Nuts

Combine flour and salt in top of double boiler; add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add honey and blend. Cook and stir over boiling water 8 minutes. Pour small amount of mixture over eggs, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from fire; add butter and vanilla. Cool. Add cereal. Chill. Serves 6 to 8.

Try the following dessert recipe. It's light, healthful, delicious and a real way to furnish milk to children who refuse to drink this healthful beverage.

Vanilla Rennet-Custard

1 package vanilla rennet powder 1 pint milk, not canned Honey Whip
Animal crackers

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When comfortably warm, (110 deg. F.), not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir contents of package of rennet powder into milk briskly until dissolved—not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator.

For a topping, use Honey Whip around edges of each glass. Place animal crackers in the whip, standing up to give circus parade effect.

Honey Whip—Combine one stiffly beaten egg white and 1 tablespoon strained honey and whip with egg beater until fluffy.

VITAMIN-RICH LEMONADE FOR SUMMER REFRESHMENTS

Lemonade has been a popular summer time beverage since grandmother was a child and it still ranks among the favored few cooling drinks most apt to be desired when the weather is on the sizzling side. This year, why not make your long, tall thirst quenchers Lemonade and enjoy the healthful goodness to be derived from vitamin-filled lemons?

Through an abundance of vitamin C, found in lemons, this beverage helps to furnish new vitality when "that tired feeling" hovers near and there's still work to be done. Fatigue is the first sign of vitamin C shortage and exposure to high temperatures causes added loss of this vitamin through perspiration. Lemonade helps to replace the loss of vitamin and liquid if drunk in sufficient quantities. Because vitamin C cannot be stored in the body, the supply must be replenished daily.

In keeping with the times, when next you serve Lemonade, why not select patriotic red, white, and blue striped glasses to lend added charm and Americanism to this "all-American" beverage? On the rim of each glass place an attractively cut lemon garnish and float fresh red strawberries and delicate mint leaves in both the pitcher and glasses for added decorative touches.

When preparing lemonade, the following rules should be remembered: Use fresh juice and plenty of it, always being sure to prepare enough for refills. Sweeten to suit the taste of each guest—many prefer the tart lemon flavor with no sweetening added.

Here are two methods for preparation:

Lemonade Cooler

1 lemon
1 to 3 tablespoons honey
1 cup cold water

Ice

Extract lemon juice. Add honey to taste. Stir to dissolve. Add water. Serve over ice in large glasses. Garnish with lemon slices, strawberries and mint.

Quick Lemonade

As much as two or three days in advance and without loss of flavor or food elements one can combine equal parts of honey and fresh lemon juice to store in the refrigerator in a covered container in readiness for lemonade service. When ready to use, dilute lemon mixture with ice water to suit individual taste. (Note: The amount of honey may vary according to sweetness desired. Many people prefer much less honey.)

This ready-made Lemonade foundation saves time when the desire for the cooling beverage arises and it can be made in quantities for family or party use. Tiny tots enjoy preparing their favorite beverage from this foundation and they leave no kitchen mess for mother to clean up because ice water may be easily added by them.

 ment. Other members of the board

Canada's Asbestos

QUEBEC—Opposition leader Maurice Duplessis said in the legislative assembly yesterday that asbestos produced in Canada has reached Japan through Argentina since the outbreak of war and that "Hitler is using Canadian-made products in his attempts to over-run the world."

Mr. Duplessis said that Mines Minister Edgar Rochette "cannot deny that asbestos produced in Canada was sent to Argentina and from there it was sent to Japan since the outbreak of war. The Japanese used it against our Canadian soldiers and against those of our Allies," he said.

Petroleum Output

Higher in March

OTTAWA—The Dominion Bureau of statistics reported yesterday that Canadian output of crude petroleum and natural gasoline in March amounted to 561,079 barrels, compared with 779,998 in the previous month and 922,998 in the corresponding month last year.

Alberta's output was 329,684 barrels, of which 310,747 barrels came from the Turner Valley field.

Total Canadian output during the first quarter of this year amounted to 2,501,867 barrels compared with 2,644,684 in the corresponding period last year.

Canadian
Garden Service

Not Too Late Yet

In a great deal of Canada this year the season has been very late, and in some sections not a single row has been planted in the Victory Garden before the end of May. But even with this delay, which was due to almost continuous rains, there is still time to produce a lot of vegetables unless the elements continue to be against man for the whole summer.

As a matter of fact, a great many plants do not make any real growth until weather and soil begin to warm up and throughout most of the Dominion this means early June, anyway.
 There are some exceptions, of course, but vegetables like beans, cabbage, cucumbers, tomatoes, corn, etc. plant ed out in early June will often catch up and may even pass those put in weeks before, especially if May has been wet and cold. This month, with its long hours of sunlight, growth is amazingly rapid, and of course rapid, unchecked growth is the real secret of the tenderness in vegetables.

Moreover, even in those favored areas where first sowings were made weeks ago, there is still time, and the experts advise them to ensure a continuous, fresh supply through the last summer months. And as for the hot weather plants, things like melons, cucumbers, celery, peppers, squash and such, this is about the ideal time to plant or set outside in most parts of Canada.

Excellent Authority

The Agricultural Supplies Board at Ottawa has put out an excellent and concise Pamphlet No. 75, on the wartime garden. This will be a great help to all beginners and even to those who have been growing some vegetables for years. A postcard or letter to the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa will bring anyone a copy.
 The pamphlet gives full directions covering such perplexing problems as distance between rows for various vegetables; time to plant, yields per 50 feet of row, and the treatment for the more common diseases. It will prove an invaluable ready reference.

Summer Care

Early summer care of the vegetable and flower garden largely consists of cultivation, elimination of weeds and spraying or dusting for any insect pests or disease which may show up.

Regular cultivation has many advantages and is advisable in any season, wet or dry. In the former, it loosens up the soil, lets in the air, prevents sourness and checks weeds growth. The soil, of course, should not be cultivated while still wet and muddy but it is advisable as soon as possible after every heavy rain: to prevent drying out and baking. In dry weather weekly cultivations will help greatly in conserving the moisture and keeping the soil in healthy condition.

There are several sound reasons for keeping down weeds. In the first place weeds are disfiguring and there is little pride in the garden that is filled with them. Weeds rob the soil of moisture, and fertility, which should be going into vegetables and flowers and they also harbor insect pests and plant diseases.
